A New Song

As Lovely Nancy sat Lamenting
All for the Loss of her sailor bold
A Letter came to her Directed
That he had arrived at Plymouth sound

Then her heart did Beat & her breast did heave
When she this Letter did recieve
Ten thousand times she kissed it
Before she had time to read it over or fold it in her milk white breast
Then for to meet her Truelove William
In rich attire she was Drest

Then on the Beach Like Lightning flew
And stood a gazeing on the whole ship crew
Onboard of the bold Defiance
Her eyes Like the morning star did glitter
As she stood gazing on the ship
O there she spied her truelove William
As he was awalking the Quarter Deck

Then she waved her glove & he his hand
Bright as an angel she did stand
Already to receive him
He said my boys come row me briskly
Come set me on my native shore
For yonder sits my truelove Nancy
She is the girl that I adore

She is the riches that I adore
Tis she I want and nothing more
In her Lays all my Treasure
Before the boat onshore could reach
He nimbly stepped out upon the Beach
Unto the arms of Nancy
Close in his arms he did enfold her
He said I have brought good news to thee
For that French Ship she was Defeated
And I have brought Great store of Gold
Tis not your gold and your silver stores
Tis you I want and nothing more
In you Lays all my Treasure
Come say you are your Lovely Nancy
Your are the Girl that I adore
Tis you I want and nothing more
In you Lays all my Treasure
Then hand in hand to Church they went
And married were to their content
And Lovingly Lived together

A Song

one morning one morning one morning in may
Two beautifull young lovers I chanced to sea
The one was a fair maid and a beauty I declare
The other was a sailor and a bold mariner

With kisses and kind compliments both walked together
Untill that they came down by the banks of the flower they sat themselves down my boy by a clear chrystal spring
All for to see the flowers grow & hear the Nightingale sing

The sailor took the fair maid around the middle
And out of his trowsers he drew a fine fiddle
He played her such a tune my boys made the valley to ring
Heark heark says the fair maid dont you hear nightingale sing

O now says the Sailor
It is time to give oer
O no says the fair maid
Come play it once more
